Motion carried upon roll call vote with all members voting yes with the exception of Vicky Lovell who voted no.

Dispatch

It is Telecommunications Week. Dispatch is now fully staffed. There were three very qualified candidates. The top scorer was offered the position. Four portable radios are programmed for SIRN. Sarah has been working on testing the signals in different areas of the county.

Commission Discussion

Pete Paulson attended the Airport meeting. The airport authority is doing well financially. Some of their projects include putting up an electrical vault which will be 97.5% paid by federal and state funds. They are in the process of receiving bids for replacing a part of the fence. The Weed Board rehired Pete Fehr for summer. The chemical bids have come in and are lower. The cost-share is 50/50 between the county and the landowner. The LEPC meeting included discussion on the SIRN tower and first responder shooting training at the hospital this fall, and they are compliant with tier two reports listing commercial and hazardous chemical sites in the county. Pipeline training and road closure training for winter has been completed. SIRN testing is May 2nd. The City County Health District is concerned about measles outbreaks in other parts of the country and immunization rates in schools. Veterans Office is closed this week for training in Fargo. Shawn Olauson attended the Buffalo Bridges meeting. One young person that they have issues with should go to a foster home but there are no foster homes available. The Water Resource District Board meeting was held. The Little Dam will have the final inspection in May. Hobart and Sanborn drains are both closed. Dam Inventory for the county needs to be done. Tile applications have been coming in. The museum will be publishing a book to go along with the World War II designation. Economic Development discussed the proposal for the new school. Mike Schwehr attended City County Health District and went through vaccination rates in other places. All schools are up to preparedness for a measles outbreak except for the Valley City School District. The swimming pool at Wesley Acres is on their radar. Vicky Lovell attended an equalization meeting. There was a question about where the location for the new school would be. Taco Day for County Government Week went well. Bill Carlbom attended the Winter Show meeting, and the Winter Show had a good show. He attended the Planning & Zoning meeting at the city.

With no further business, Shawn Olauson made a motion, seconded by Pete Paulson, to adjourn the meeting. Motion carried unanimously, with all members voting “aye” and the meeting was adjourned at 9:39 a.m.
